

H MESTRETCH FOUNDATION

The Homestretch Foundation is a non-profit organization that provides temporary housing and other resources to professional or elite athletes—primarily female athletes—who face financial and economic discrepancies.

Support our founder, Kathryn Bertine as she rides like the wind in El Tour!

“The mission of The Homestretch Foundation is to level the playing field of salary discrepancy in sport, so that female professional athletes have the same wages and equal opportunities as male professional athletes. Regardless of an athlete’s socioeconomic and/or life circumstances, we want all women to pursue their careers as athletes without compromise, inequality or injustice.”

-Kathryn Bertine, Founder.

Homestretch Foundation was established to provide resources, such as subsidized housing, to adult women earning or living at the poverty line (as defined by U.S. Federal guidelines). Our hope is to support women and provide them with resources to be to continue their athletic profession, and to thereby build skills and connections that will benefit their post-athletic careers, health and wellness.

In support of our mission Homestretch Foundation:

- * Assists low-income female professional athletes with free housing
- * Bridges the wage gap of salary inequity for women in all occupations
- * Provides resources and networking for post-athletic careers
- * Provides opportunities for our members to thrive in their post-athletic careers
- * Allows donors/members to book our facility in the off-season

Support Kathryn’s ride to honor those athletes and raise funds to continue supporting them.
